CUTICURA

Boynton's Case of Skin and Blood Disease. The most Remarkable Cure on Record.

I have been afflicted for one year and nine months with what the doctors called lupus. I was taken with pains in my head and body, my feet and ankles, so that I was perfectly helpless. The sores broke out on my body and face, my appetite left me, I could not sleep nights, I lost flesh, and soon became so weak that I longed to die. In that condition after trying many remedies I engaged two homeopathic physicians, Dr. —— and Dr. ——, and was under treatment a year and a half, and failed to get any permanent relief. My disease grew worse and my condition became terrible. I tried other doctors, but without success. Kind friends then tried to get me into the City Hospital, but the superintendent after examining my case declined to admit such cases, and told them I would not live six weeks unless I was relieved.

On the 5th of April last, I sent to Dr. F. M. Blodgett of Boston. He came and after an examination pronounced my case the most hopeless he had ever witnessed. My photograph which was then taken at his request, and which I have to this day, propped up in bed, shows the disease as it appeared on my face, but no picture could indicate how much pain and suffering I endured. The eruption had increased to great furrows and deep crevices, from which a reddish matter constantly poured, forming crusts of great thickness. These appeared on various parts of my body, and I was so weak that I could not leave my bed.

In this condition, and by advice of Dr Blodgett, I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, the RESOLVENT internally three times per day, and the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally. In just ... i.e., June 26, I was so far recovered as to be able to go alone to the gallery and sit for my photograph, which shows more than words can do the wonders these remedies have wrought in less than three months. The sores have all disappeared from my face and body, my appetite and strength have returned, I am free from pain, my flesh is increasing, and I can sleep and enjoy life. My restoration to perfect health is now only a matter of a few weeks. My friends think my cure miraculous, and I shall never cease to feel that the CUTICURA REMEDIES have saved my life.

WASHINGTON.

The Senate Refuses to Ratify the Nicaraguan Treaty.

TWO THIRDS NOT VOTING AYE

Rosecrans Is Shown the Alleged War Dispatches from Grant—Proceedings of the National Board of Trade Washington Notes

Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—Harrison, from the committee on military affairs, reported adversely a bill introduced by Fulton to facilitate promotions throughout the army by retiring from active service at their own application officers who served in the war of the rebellion, placed on the calendar. In submitting the report Harrison said the committee did not favor the bill, because it would result in giving a very large proportion the privilege of retiring

The senate then went into executive session

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The senate went into executive session at 12 30 to-day, and the suspended vote of last night upon Vance's motion to postpone action upon the Nicaraguan treaty was considered, resulting in the defeat of the motion, 22 to 32. Sherman's amendment, looking to abrogation or modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was then discussed some hours and coming to a vote in committee of the whole was defeated, 27 to 28. The second Sherman amendment relating to discriminations in the tolls was defeated without division

The treaty was then reported to the senate and a vote upon Sherman's amendment in relation to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was taken up, resulting in its adoption [illegible]

A vote was then taken upon the treaty itself and 32 senators voted for its ratification, while 23 voted against it. The affirmative being less than two-thirds of the whole number voting the treaty was not ratified

When the doors reopened the senate adjourned

THE VOTE IN DETAIL

The following is understood to be the vote in detail upon the ratification of the Nicaraguan treaty

Ayes—Aldrich, Allison, Bowen, Cameron, Wise, Chase, Conger, Cullom, Edmunds, Frye, Hale, Harrison, Hawley, Hoar, Jonas, Jones (Fla.), Jones (Nev.), Lapham, McMillan, Mahone, Manderson, Maxey, Miller (Cal.), Morgan, Palmer, Pendleton, Pike, Platt, Pugh, Sawyer, Sherman, Van Wyck and Wilson—32

Nays—Bayard, Beck, Butler, Call, Camden, Cockrell, Coke, Colquitt, Garland, George, Gibson, Gorman, Groome, Hampton, Harris, Jackson, Kenna, Lamar, Ransom, Riddleberger, Saulsbury, Vance and Vest—23. Not two-thirds

The change of front upon Sherman's amendment is explained thus Several senators who favored the amendment, but were opposed to the treaty, voted against the amendment in committee of the whole fearing its adoption would help the treaty When the treaty was reported to the senate and the vote recurred upon the Sherman amendment, some friends of the treaty, who were opposed to the amendment, voted in the affirmative, as a means of winning support to the treaty itself, the failure of which, unamended, was foretold by the votes in committee of the whole.

House.

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—Rosecrans, from the committee on military affairs, reported a bill to establish a branch of the Soldiers' home in California, referred to the committee on appropriations.

After the transaction of unimportant business the house adjourned

THE CONGO CONFERENCE.

Reply of the Secretary of State to the House Resolution of Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—In response to the house resolution calling for information respecting participation of the United States in the Congo conference, the president to-day sent to the house a report submitted by the secretary of state to the president. The secretary says some time must elapse before a full documentary history of the transactions can be laid before congress, but in view of the general interest taken in the subject, he submits a preliminary report, leaving transmission of papers to follow He then gives in detail the cause and motives for the participation of this government in the Berlin conference, all of which is well known to the public "It being established," the report proceeds, "that the conference was not to have plenipotentiary functions, no special credentials were needed to enable Kasson to attend as delegate of this government he being already accredited as minister to the imperial court The instructions sent to Kasson were brief, but precise as to the exclusion of questions of territorial jurisdiction

ASSOCIATE DELEGATE

By direction of the president, Mr Henry Sanford, whose relation to the International association representing the free states of the Congo seemed to fit him for the work, was appointed associate delegate on behalf of the United States, his course to be governed by instructions sent Kasson Sanford, not being an officer of this government, was accredited, by a letter addressed by the undersigned to the minister of foreign affairs of Germany, as associate delegate

The resolution of the house calls for the text of the credentials or powers given the representative of the United States, and the letter accrediting Sanford will be transmitted with the rest of the correspondence at an early day It may, however, be here mentioned that it confers no definite powers on him. It merely recites the proposal of the imperial government, that associate delegates, having special knowledge of the condition of affairs in western Africa, and especially in the region of the Congo, should assist at meetings of the conference and formally accredits Sanford as such associate delegate on behalf of the United States

STANLEY'S POSITION

"Subsequently," the report says, "Henry M Stanley was invited by the conference itself to appear and give information touching the Congo region, as to which he is admitted to be the original and sole authority Stanley's name appears in the protocols of the proceedings as associate delegate of the United States, but he was not accredited otherwise than by Kasson's personal introduction. Neither Sanford nor Stanley have had a vote in the proceedings, as the vote had been by countries, the delegation of each voting as a unit As a fact, voting is quite a matter of form The latest dispatches received from Kasson, Secretary Frelinghuysen says being the proceedings to December 1[illegible], on which day the conference adjourned until January [illegible] Up to that time the department of state has no reason to feel otherwise than satisfied with the discretion, prudence and ability with which Kasson has carried out the instructions given him Besides limiting the position of the United States to one of commercial interest, dissociated from questions of territorial control he has been attentive that no action on our part shall deviate from a consistent national policy

THE NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—At the second day's session of the national board of trade the committee to which was referred various propositions touching national bankrupt legislation presented a report in favor of enactment of the bankrupt bill already passed by the senate The report was adopted

After a long discussion it was agreed, by a vote of 22 to 11, to submit to congress a draft of the bill defining the liability of common carriers on bills of lading, prepared by the executive council instead of the bill favored by the New York board of trade

Regulation of interstate commerce was referred to a special committee, authorized to report to the executive council at this session of the board if possible a bill embodying necessary legislation upon such question

Promoting an increase of American shipping was discussed several hours, and a resolution was adopted recommending to congress the enactment of house bill 989 which provides that the postmaster general be authorized, in his discretion, to contract with American steamship companies for the conveyance of mails, at a rate not to exceed $1 per mile, the amount to be paid in this manner not to exceed the sum received from ocean postage by the United States The board also referred the matter of American shipping to the executive council for further consideration, with a request that the council examine the method adopted by the French [illegible] to encourage the [illegible] of its marine

The next matter taken up was the [illegible] of the New York board [illegible] establishment of a central [illegible] the port of [illegible] The resolution was defeated by a vote of [illegible] 18 Adjourned until to-morrow

GENERAL WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—Secretary Frelinghuysen telegraphed instructions for the U. S. S. Wachusett, of the Pacific squadron, to proceed to Guayaquil, Ecuador for the protection of [illegible] R Santos, a naturalized American citizen, imprisoned there for alleged complicity in rebellion, and whose speedy execution is apprehended

The civil service commission are considering a proposition to include in the classification of employes coming within the provisions of the civil service act all government employes enumerated in the laws relating to the civil service, except officers nominated by the president and confirmed by the senate Such classification would include chiefs of divisions, assistant chiefs and a number of special departmental offices, who are not subject to confirmation by the senate

The committee on selecting grand marshal for inauguration ceremonies will probably select General Don Carlos Buell, in the event General McClellan declines. General Buell lived in this city for many years prior to 1861 and is well known to all old citizens

ROSECRANS SHOWN THE ALLEGED DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON, Jan 29—In explanation of the opposition by General Rosecrans to the bill for retiring General Grant some papers have published two dispatches purporting to be from General Grant, and sent during the war to Stanton and Halleck, one demanding Rosecrans' removal, and the other ordering his arrest in a certain contingency When General Rosecrans' attention was called to the dispatches named and the comments thereon, he said "This is the first intimation I have ever had of the existence of any such dispatches, or of any ground upon which such telegrams might be based "

SALT LAKE, Jan 29—The examination of Royal B Young, charged with polygamy, was concluded to-day The commissioner held the accused in $2000 bonds, to await the action of the grand jury, which will be empaneled next week

Now that the Mormon president and party have returned, rumors of their treaty with Chief Cajeme are flying thick The negotiations have been in progress for four years It is now said that all preliminaries are settled that the polygamists will go to Sonora in a body, and leave the monogamists, and that John Taylor has contracted to settle 50,000 people there within two years. Such is the talk here, but it is impossible to verify it

A Ship Captain has a Fearful Fight with Mutineers.

EVIDENCES OF BETTER TIMES

[illegible] Prominent Democrats to Albany —Wild Proceedings in the Silver Convention at Denver

[illegible], Jan 29—The Tribune's New York special says The Swedish brigantine Vital arrived yesterday, having sailed from [illegible] for [illegible] and Queensland On the outward trip a terrible mutiny occurred. The mutineers killed Captain Enstrom's son The captain having no leg irons or handcuffs, shot two of the ringleaders and threw their bodies overboard The details of the story are horrible

A later dispatch gives the following particulars of the mutiny on the brigantine Vital When two months out the captain was attacked in his berth at night by the carpenter armed with a broad ax but aided by the mate he beat off his assailant who was joined by the steward, also armed The captain staunched his wounds, and he and the mate armed themselves with a gun and a revolver and sallied out, where they were met by the carpenter steward and three sailors, armed with axes, sheath knives and capstan bars In the struggle the captain's pistol was captured, and the mate was shot under the right eye and in the chin The captain received numerous wounds and slashes from sheath knives The mutineers retreated into the forehold, where they were all imprisoned, as was supposed, by the battening down of the hatches The captain and the mate took in the topsails and outer jibs, and then searched for the second mate, who was the captain's son They found his cap, gashed and bloody He had been murdered and thrown overboard Suddenly they discovered the carpenter skulking behind the capstan, and he was overpowered and tied The captain and the mate worked the vessel for four days, and then loosened the fore hatch and called on the mutineers to come up, disarm and surrender They tumbled up, threw their sheath knives on the deck, and muttered that their pistols had been lost below The captain had no leg irons or handcuffs with which to secure them, and as he believed they lied, he shot the carpenter and the steward and threw their bodies overboard Rufus and Tenton, the two seamen, agreed to obey orders after that

A SENSATIONAL STATEMENT

ST LOUIS, Jan 29—The Post-Dispatch prints an article this evening, based on the statement by a person whom it calls a well-known local dynamiter, to the effect that Cunningham, now under arrest in London in connection with the recent explosion in the tower, is the same young fellow who, two years ago, lived here, and who was written up at the time as an explosive and infernal machine maker, and full of schemes to blow up all the public buildings of London He was known here as Michael J Byrne He was a harness maker by trade, and devoted his spare time and money to experimenting in explosives, and making infernal machines He also lived in Chicago where he was known as James Gilbert, and in Philadelphia, where he went by the name of James Cunningham He claimed to have been obliged to leave Ireland because he was implicated in the murder of a landlord, but this story was not much relied upon by his friends. He was in Denver last August, but since then has not been heard from.

BAD REPORTS FROM PANAMA

NEW YORK, Jan 29—The Post's Washington dispatches give startling information concerning mortality upon the line of the Panama canal There seems to be no doubt about the authenticity of the statements The director general of the canal company has lost his entire family by yellow fever, and is himself the only survivor of a party of twelve persons who arrived at the isthmus some fifteen months ago The annual death rate is put down at eleven in every one hundred The disease seems to be yellow fever in nearly every case The sender of this information reasonably concludes that the isthmus is pestilential, and in doing so merely confirms the view of previous observers. The building of a canal through such a country can be scarcely less costly in human life than a bloody war

THE NEW ORLEANS FAIR

NEW ORLEANS, Jan 29—There was a large attendance at the exposition to-day Visitors are rapidly arriving Most of them are to remain until after the Mardi Gras festival In the main building all the exhibits are in place, and in a few days the sound of the saw and hammer will be unheard except in the way of improvement It was the original intention to place Liberty bell on a platform in the center of the government building, but this evening it is learned the committee decided to place it just as it hangs, on a car in the main building, near the Mexican silver nugget. It is further understood that the final locating of the bell will take place Wednesday next, with appropriate ceremonies.

EVIDENCES OF BETTER TIMES

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—The Commercial Bulletin prints a list of forty iron foundries and rolling mills which have started up since the first of the year in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Missouri and other states, and says "While the business of each is not brisk, there is reason for believing that the general situation is rather more favorable now than it was at the commencement of the year In this market very fair sales of pig iron are making at steady prices, while Philadelphia reports speak of improved business There is a pretty good demand for everything on the list, and sellers are firm as to prices The west also furnishes evidence of improvement and the south is doing fairly "

CLEVELAND HAS A CONFERENCE WITH RANDALL

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan 29—What appeared to be a sensational paragraph was printed in the World this evening It was to the effect that President-elect Cleveland was visited late last night by ex-Speaker Randall, in response to a letter of invitation sent him to Washington Immediately after his arrival here Randall was driven to Cleveland's temporary abode, where the two men held a conference lasting several hours. This morning the talk was resumed and at its conclusion Randall returned to New York Speaker Carlisle is also mentioned as having been invited by Cleveland and is expected to arrive Saturday morning. Colonel D. S. Lamont, private secretary of the president elect, corroborates the statement that Randall was here and in consultation with the president-elect, and that Carlisle is expected, but beyond that was extremely reticent. Rumor has it that the president-elect is not satisfied with the way things are going on in congress and wants Randall and Carlisle to adopt some fresh and vigorous policy. Of course nobody has the smallest particle of information as to what took place between Cleveland and Randall but it is the general belief that nothing in the line of cabinet appointments was mentioned

THE SILVER CONVENTION

A Contest between Two Factions Leads to Disgraceful Scenes

DENVER, Col Jan 29 The national silver convention reassembled at 10 o'clock. The temporary chairman read the following telegram from Hon Henry M Teller, secretary of the interior

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan 29, 1885.

Chairman of the Silver Convention I desire through you to assure the convention over which you preside that I am in full sympathy with every effort to secure to silver all the advantages conferred by law on gold I do not think silver will take its just rank as a money metal in the commercial marts of the world until its money functions shall be recognized by the law giving the holder of silver bullion every privilege given to the holder of gold bullion To this end I pledge you my untiring efforts

H M TELLER

The reading of the telegram was followed by tremendous cheering, lasting some minutes The remainder of the morning session was consumed in debate on that part of the report of the committee on credentials fixing the standard of representation The convention has thus far been a stormy one, a bitter fight being made by the delegations favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver for the permanent chairmanship They are in favor of ex-Senator Tabor Conservatives including the majority of the committee on permanent organization are for ex-Governor Grant Absolutely nothing has been accomplished thus far

AFTERNOON SESSION

On reassembling for the afternoon session, the convention again took up the question of representation The committee on credentials in its report had announced 104 delegates present with proper credentials, but in view of the fact that some of the counties of Colorado were represented by 100 or more delegates, while others were represented by a much smaller number, the convention recommended, as a matter of justice to all parts of the state, that each county represented be allowed double the number of votes accredited to it at the late republican and democratic state convention. A delegate moved, as an amendment, that each delegate present be allowed one vote An angry discussion followed, ending in the adoption of the report

A WILD SCENE.

The committee on permanent organization reported the name of ex-Governor James B. Grant for permanent chairman A minority report of the same committee was also presented, recommending ex Senator Tabor for permanent chairman Then ensued a scene almost indescribable, and certainly disgraceful There were yells, hisses, laughter, shoutings, and motions to adjourn sine die It was a perfect mob of crazy men, which the chairman was wholly unable to control

A delegate finally succeeded in obtaining recognition from the chair, and in a powerful speech in the interest of harmony succeeded in bringing order out of chaos. "In the interest of silver, and for the sake of Colorado," he moved as a substitute for the report that Governor B H Eaton be made permanent chairman The motion was unanimously adopted, and the remainder of the majority report was subsequently adopted

A committee on resolutions and memorials was appointed, consisting of one from each county in Colorado and one from each of the other states and territories represented in the convention

On motion, a committee of twelve was appointed to consider and report upon the question of formation of a national silver association The committee consists of delegates from each of the states and territories represented in the convention Adjourned to 10 to-morrow

AN OLD MAN MURDERED

JONESBORO, Ala, Jan 29—A most horrible murder was the killing last night, near here, of Bennett Parson, a respectable farmer, 72 years of age, between 9 and 10 o'clock According to their story, Mrs. Parson and two daughters went to the stable for something, and during their absence from the house they heard the report of a gun They paid little attention to it, as it is not an exceptional occurrence, and returning to the house retired They declare they did not find out that Parson was shot until morning when they found his body, badly burned, lying on the hearth in his room The coroner's jury to-day rendered a verdict that "Bennett Parson came to his death by being shot with a gun, we believe, in the hands of his wife We also believe that his two daughters were accessory to the crime"

The Humor of Misquotation.

St Louis Globe Democrat.

There is what may be called the humor of misquotation. Ben Butler unconsciously illustrated it in a speech in congress when he said "There is more joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth than over ninety and nine just men made perfect" An Irish orator illustrated it when he said, in all seriousness, in reply to his opponent "Mr President, in the language of the immortal Shakespeare, 'Let the galled jade wince.'" And our own Berry Mitchell illustrated it when, in his renowned impersonation of [illegible], he lifted up his eyes and spoke impressively of "this brave o'erfirming hangament"

The senatorial candidate dictated a telegram to a member of the legislature, "If you vote for me I will not forget the obligation" "How many words is that?" "Eleven," said the private secretary "Well, you know what I mean Boil it down to ten words." The private secretary struck out the word "not."—Chicago News

POLITICAL MEETING AT BIRMINGHAM

LONDON, Jan 29—The meeting at Birmingham this evening was an imposing liberal demonstration A resolution was unanimously passed expressing sympathy with the conservative party with their great loss in the death of the "gallant soldier, and the patriotic and kind hearted Colonel Burnaby "

Bright, in alluding to the American tariff, said the farmers of the United States are not permitted to exchange their products with the artisans of Birmingham or weavers of Lancashire, but are compelled to exchange with the protected manufacturers of their own country, who in some cases do not give half what the farmers could get from the Lancashire or Birmingham manufacturers Bright said he had no wish to reproach Americans, who some day he believed would discover the right course He felt sanguine there would be a gradual movement in America in the right direction. The time would come when England and America, although two nations, would be one people, and one in commerce Bright strongly denounced resort to arms as a means of settling international controversies He pointed out that during Queen Victoria's reign the wars in which England had been engaged had cost the nation £150,000,000 and the lives of 68,000 men He deprecated further annexation of territory by Great Britain

Chamberlain, in the course of his speech, said when the work of mercy of relieving British garrisons in the Soudan was happily ended, the English would abandon that country and let the Soudanese establish the form of government they liked best. He said he hoped the present parliament would settle the Bradlaugh deadlock, and concluded by denouncing the present English land system as exceptionally unjust, unfair and ridiculous When Chamberlain mentioned the name of Parnell it was received with loud groans and hisses.

Mr Bright declared that if the project of colonial federation was persisted in it would be found to result in the loss of Canada.

Large quantities of ice of fair quality and about six inches thick, is being cut from the ponds west of town The supply is unlimited.

Stages for Canyon City, Prineville, Tygh valley and Goldendale are again making regular trips, and communication with all interior points is restored

Sleighing is now excellent, except in the city where the accumulation of snow renders the streets almost impassable, except for a single team at a time.

Thinking Portland to be a more genial place in which to loaf he took the train Sunday morning without the knowledge or consent of the officers Sheriff Crossen took the train Monday morning and found Mr Haight in Portland and will undoubtedly keep him where excursions of that kind will not tempt him again

THE EAST SIDE

THE BENNETT SUIT

It appears that the suit of F Bennett against the city of East Portland, for payment of a street improvement fund warrant, is a test case to determine the responsibility of the city, irrespective of property-owners' delinquency The warrant upon which Mr Bennett sues is against the property of J T Stewart on the west side of the Fifth street bridge, between J and K streets. The balance of adjacent property-owners enjoined the collection of their assessments for the alleged faulty construction, a fact which Mr Bennett, who was the contractor, virtually admitted by an offer to compromise Mr Stewart did not join the property-owners in their suit for the reason that his office of city recorder at that time placed him in a delicate position in the premises He made a verbal agreement with Bennett, however to abide by the decision in the pending suit, and upon this basis the matter rested The case has now been hanging fire in the courts some eighteen months, and Bennett, probably growing tired of the "law's delay," took advantage of the warrant in question for the purpose stated Stewart's position varies from other property-owners in the fact that in his case a warrant was not issued to the marshal for the collection of the delinquent assessment but this was withheld for the purpose of avoiding another injunction suit and extra expense to the city, which its issuance would have entailed In the event of the case being decided against the city, which is likely, it will have to foot the warrants in full and suffer the loss of what reduction may be adjudged proper through faulty construction and non-compliance with the contract A point in favor of the city is that the then council accepted the bridge by three votes, an insufficient number, and without the approval of the street commissioner, which is contrary to ordinance, but whether such action can affect warrants properly signed and attested is a question The case will probably be decided in a day or two

With the assistance of Sheriff Cornelius, he succeeded in finding both man and horse, after a rough journey on a new road, about sixteen miles back of Hillsboro Returning with his prisoner, the latter was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and was put under bonds of $200 to appear for examination Saturday afternoon Prisoner claims he bought the horse from a stranger before leaving in August last, and that his wife paid over the money, $12 50 to which fact, he says, she will testify

CANADIAN PACIFIC EXTRAVAGANCE.

OTTAWA Special to St Paul Pioneer Press

A pamphlet issued to-day severely criticised the Canadian Pacific railway and its connection with the dominion government. The author, who writes under the nom de plume of Philo Veritas, a prominent civil engineer and gentleman of marked ability, starts out to show that all who speak the truth regarding the railway company are branded as disloyal citizens cites the fact that the company has never reported to the minister of railways as required, but always has done the opposite, and no accurate account has ever been kept of the expenditure of large advances made by parliament. For the change of location of routes west of Winnipeg, Mr Van Horne, general manager, was responsible, as well as for the extraordinary rate at which the line was built across the prairie The report states Mr Van Horne's income amounts to from about $[illegible] to $60,000, Mr Stephen, the president, getting $20,000, and Angus, vice president, $15,000 The writer also says additional assistance will be asked by the syndicate at the approaching session, notwithstanding that a $32,000,000 loan was made last year The accounts and reports dragged unwillingly from the company have no parallel in the history of modern railways, facts being deliberately suppressed There is no statement given as to grades and curves, and the accounts are unintelligible documents The cost of the road west of Winnipeg was shown by Sanford Fleming to be $13,000 per mile The syndicate shows the amount to be $16,000 Grades near Kicking Horse pass run from [illegible] to 220 feet, although it was arranged that they should not run over [illegible] feet The route through the Selkirk range is said to be impracticable as it was found [illegible] glaciers In the abandonment of the Algoma branch, which is now a total wreck, the company lost nearly $500,000 The connecting of British Columbia with the rest of the dominion with a railway could only be a political move, and not in the interest of trade, since it should find an outlet on the Pacific coast The idea that trade can be got from Japan and China is said to be silly since no trade exists. No one credits that a nine-mile tunnel through the mountains will ever be built, and the road now called temporary is really permanent The writer shows that really $10,000,000 less has been put in the line than is stated by the company and that a bonus will be asked for constructing the road from Sudbury to Sault Ste Marie from the government The appearance of the pamphlet has caused considerable excitement in railway circles. Some attribute its existence to the Grand Trunk. A thorough investigation into the affairs of the Canadian Pacific railroad is demanded, as no clique of men have a right to keep anything back in a national undertaking

THE STATE PENITENTIARY

For a detailed statement of the [illegible] of the state penitentiary during the last two years the governor respectfully calls the attention of the legislature to the report of the superintendent. We have examined the report and [illegible] the number of convicts is [illegible] numbers [illegible] the cost of [illegible] for the part [illegible] employed [illegible] says that the results of the [illegible] convicts under the existing contract [illegible] disfactory. On the 1st of last December there were [illegible] convicts, on the [illegible] March, 188[illegible], there were 1[illegible]. The gross expense of keeping each prisoner has been [illegible] and a fraction, costs somewhat greater than the gross expense for the previous two years. The net expense has been $1[illegible] and a fraction. This does not include work done or brick furnished for the asylum, workshops and about the penitentiary, nor the value of brick and material on hand. A moderate estimate of the value of the property on hand, and uncollected accounts for bricks sold would reduce the net cost below seventy-five cents a week.

Although the prison has been occupied but ten years, it needs extensive repairs, not only for the secure confinement of prisoners, but for their protection against disease and death. Many of the cells now in use are built of iron and are poorly adapted to a damp climate. Those of brick are less damp, but the greatest fault with them all is that they are not large enough. They contain 378 cubic feet of air space—189 feet to each man, including bedding and furniture, which is less than half the necessary amount of air space required for health. This defect causes many physical disorders, and it must at the same time so effect the nervous condition of the men as to interfere with the discipline of the prison. A man made neuralgic by damp and confined air is not a fit subject for reformatory discipline. The object of the institution is thus defeated in a large measure, and at the same time the state suffers a large annual loss. The attention of the legislature cannot be too strongly directed to the necessity of making the repairs suggested by this report. We should remember that the inmates of the prison, although criminals, are still "God's critters" as an economical but humane man in another state called the town's poor, and that the state is bound to take humane care of them.

The governor called attention in his message to the fact that within less than two years more than forty persons were committed to the prison under 20 years of age. The degree of their crimes is not stated, but as we have no house of correction or reform school there is no other place where any youthful offender can be committed who is liable to imprisonment. It is a very old question how far punishment, severe or otherwise, operates as a preventive of crime. It has not been answered yet to our satisfaction, nor can we say when it will be, if ever. It is no many years since in England a farthing's difference in the value of stolen property meant—the gallows to steal the value of a shilling meant—hanging. The law is more merciful now-a-days, but who can say, taking all things into account, that people steal more than when they had the hangman in prospect. Punishment has a two-fold object—the protection of society first, and then the reformation of the criminal. But the first must not be permitted to overshadow the second, so that it be lost sight of. The question is, how is the public, how is society to be protected against a recurrence of the offense? That is the question to be considered in dealing with the offender. So long as the offender is in prison society is protected against him, and there is no doubt that others disposed to crime are deterred to a certain degree by his imprisonment. Still it is to be regretted that there is no more suitable place for the punishment of youthful offenders than the state penitentiary.

THE ONE PLAIN OBJECTION

"We wait," says Mr. "Dundee" Reid, who is trying to push his old game of "hogging" the city levee, "for Harvey W. Scott's further objections." The person named, in common with other citizens, has just one further objection, and it is the only objection they have entertained from first to last, and the same is this, namely, that the levee which Mr. "Dundee" Reid has so long been trying to appropriate to himself belongs to the city of Portland, and Mr. "Dundee" Reid has no more rightful claim to it than he has to any one of the public parks or squares of the city. And moreover, now that THE OREGONIAN is speaking plainly about the matter, it will say that the long continued, persistent and impudent effort of Mr. "Dundee" Reid to seize, occupy, enjoy and make profit out of property not his own is eminently worthy of one who is so shameless in his methods of "business" that even his own countrymen are compelled to testify in court that he is not to be believed in any statement he makes. Nor, indeed, is it less surprising than formerly to find him trying to grab the levee. Is the proverb true that "he who will steal will lie?" And is Mr. "Dundee" Reid anxious to make it a double-ender or a reversible proverb, by showing also that he who will lie would steal—if he could?

If Mr. "Dundee" Reid can organize a company that will complete the narrow gauge we shall all be glad to see him do so. Not one straw would be thrown in his way. All want the road completed—none more than THE OREGONIAN. Just let him drop his scheme of stealing the levee, give up the burglarious and iniquitous part of his plan, and go right on with an undertaking that will be in every way legitimate and proper as soon as this object onable feature is eliminated from it.

NO DEDUCTION OF DEBT

They who have opposed repeal of the mortgage tax law will be strengthened in their purpose to maintain the law by the recent decision of the supreme court of the state. Credits must be taxed, including credits secured by mortgage, and under the law of 1882 instead of the mortgage law will be preserved substantially [illegible] of discovering debts [illegible] of taxing them in the counties where the [illegible] situated. Since it seems to be settled that mortgage debts must continue to be taxed [illegible] the present plan the all important thing now is to strike out of our system the practice of allowing deductions for indebtedness. We cannot dwell too much on this topic. The argument for the necessity of disallowing indebtedness is one that will bear constant repetition. It is the key to the whole subject.

Since credits must be taxed, including those credits secured by mortgage, now let us enact that the practice of deducting the debts shall no longer be continued as a means of defeating equitable assessments. A debt rated at its full value is deducted from an assessment of property rated at one-third or one-fourth of its value, and the consequence is the escape from taxation of nearly or quite one-half the property of the state [illegible] burdens thrown upon those who [illegible] out of debt and who [illegible] prosperity of the state.

The [illegible] going to escape [illegible] share. But let us [illegible] law that allows deduction for indebtedness and then the mortgage or other debt will [illegible] the instrument of inequality and [illegible] for taxes.

The United States are not alone in experiencing long continued and severe winter weather. It is quite general in Europe, and particularly affecting Italy, where great loss of life and property has been suffered. Hundreds of the inhabitants have been killed by avalanches.

The Chicago Journal regards it as curious that orphan asylums, poor-houses and churches are always burning down, and that jails and prisons are seldom scorched.

OUR SOCIAL ALEMBIC.

The Leeds (England) Mercury in a recent issue published an interesting review of a book entitled "Old World Questions and New World Answers," which takes the reader through the factory districts of New England, and gives a most instructive survey of the industrial conditions of a busy section of the United States. In his prefatory words the author of this book [illegible] a somewhat [illegible] picture [illegible] tion. He sees the mixed stream of the nationalities pouring into the United States, and, speculating on what the result is to be, [illegible] compare America to an alembic into which the [illegible] are plunged, [illegible] democracy is the [illegible] as the crystallizing agent, he sees intelligent freedom as the [illegible] In this refining process, much base [illegible] is said to be left behind. Thus obstinacy is even now eliminated from English courage, superstition from French thrift, indolence from Irish shrewdness, want of enterprise from Scandinavian industry, listlessness from negro docility, and [illegible] from Chinese skill and patience.

While the [illegible] does not think the process is [illegible] complete as it is represented, still it acknowledges that it is a great problem [illegible] worked [illegible] this side of the Atlantic [illegible] of the nations of Europe is tending to [illegible] The drift of people to us is [illegible] and whatever other result the alembic may produce it is surely making one people out of many, and is teaching, by processes that are not the gainsaid or interfered with, one common language, and that our English tongue. The processes are noticeable even in the case of the elders but it is very plain in the case of the children. It is the common schools of the country that form the great alembic, and that turn out not German, not Irish, not Scandinavian, not English, but American children: every boy (if native born) a possible president, every girl (whether native born or not) proud of her accession to a sovereignty in her own right which she soon learns to claim. When the second generation comes, the American feeling in the children is as commanding as it is in those whose forefathers went over in the Mayflower. It is mainly the old men or the first generation of the immigrants that retain their old political notions, and keep up displays which suggest a land with which they have at least formally made declaration that they have nothing in common. Their descendants forget these things, or take but an antiquarian interest in them. This is the inevitable result of the process in this great social alembic. And it is the free common school—common in that it is national, and that rich and poor meet there not as rich and poor, but on a level—that is the great cause of the change. As Henry Ward Beecher once said: "When a lion slays an ox and eats him, the lion never turns to an ox; it is the ox that turns to lion. We are," as he went on with his figure, "we are going to eat those foreign settlers, and turn them to Americans, and the mouth and the stomach is the common school. The old will pass on and die undigested, but the young, the tenderer, will all turn to blood and assimilate."

A COMMOTION

The entire south is denouncing Mr. Cable's article in the Century on "The Freedman's Case in Equity." That article is remarkable as a declaration from a thinking southerner of the fact so fully believed in the northern states that the political and civil rights of the negroes are not conceded by the people of the south.

Mr. Cable defines the cause of the trouble: the foremost sentiment among southern men and women as respects the African is that he is of necessity—first, now and always—an alien. No matter what changes have been wrought by contact with civilization, or may yet be wrought by enfranchisement, the southern mind, as a whole, is unable to look upon the freedman as other than an alien, and a sort of connecting link between man and the beast of burden.

This declaration from one who has neither political aims to subserve nor political revenges to work out, but is famous as the most conscientious and thoughtful writer of light literature ever produced by the south, affords food for thought. After it has become rather unpopular to "raise sectional strife" by attacking the ingrained prejudice of the southern people against their former slaves, this renewal of the statement by one of its own best minds has put the south again on the defensive. There is no small commotion over it. Truth, only, could make such a stir. Falsehood would beat the empty air.

Since 1880 the increase of railway mileage has been more than 40 per cent., while the increase of the grain crops, on which the railroads so largely depend for business, has been but 5 per cent. The average crop from 1866 to 1869, inclusive, was 1,400,000,000 bushels, average mileage 29,000 miles. From 1877 to 1880, average crop 2,341,000,000 bushels, mileage 83,000 miles. From 1881 to 1883, inclusive, average crop 2,45[illegible],000,000 bushels, mileage (1st January 1884) over 121,000 miles. The disproportion here shown accounts largely for the railway panic, the great private losses, and for the redistribution of property now going on. The hope for a speedy recuperation, Mr. Edward Atkinson says, lies in the fact that "the end of speculative construction is plainly to be seen." Only through lines are built. Hereafter construction will be limited to about 4000 miles annually, [illegible] cross-roads, side lines and local roads [illegible] districts. Competition is rapidly eliminating "watered stocks and bonds." Between 1880 and 1880 the freight charges of railroads were reduced two-thirds, the actual profit in 1882 of carrying a barrel of flour from Chicago to New York being but 13 cents. "The end of speculative building and of freight reductions as well, Mr. Atkinson says, is therefore in sight, and an era of earnings limited to a moderate rate of [illegible] dividend on [illegible] roads is at hand."

This senate has for years become more and more a circle of men of great fortunes, most of them accumulated by dubious ways, and one result was mentioned by Senator Ingalls a few days ago, when he told his fellow senators: "I do not need to appeal to the current strain of observations made in the public press, when I say that the senate of the United States is not an object of public adoration at this time." And yet men like the place.

The Oregon Central grant having been forfeited it becomes important to inquire how far the same territory is still covered by the Northern Pacific. In Columbia county there is a considerable extent of country so held, and, as the Northern Pacific grant is older than that of the Oregon Central, the status of it is unchanged by the forfeiture of the latter.

THE INAUGURAL PROCESSION.

Norristown [illegible] Herald

Democratic leaders appear to be unable to agree as to the character of the inaugural procession on the 4th of March next. It is understood that the southern wing of the party, in order to bring about the much talked of "era of good feeling," has arranged an order of procession as follows:

[illegible] very thirsty [illegible] very hungry.

[illegible] the inscription: "To the Victors Belong the Spoils."

[illegible] Boiling the [illegible]

[illegible] that fired the first shot at Fort Sumter [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Want Your Daughter to Marry a Nigger?

[illegible]

[illegible] We Honor [illegible]

A float containing [illegible] "Old [illegible] in the south."

A transparency inscribed with the motto: "We Love the New York Mugwumps as Democratic Voters, but not as Office-Holders."

A brass band playing, "Way Down South in Dixie."

THE LAUNDRY LICENSE.

Judge Deady Holds that the Power to Regulate Wash Houses Includes the Power to License But not the Power to Tax.

U. S. District Court, District of Oregon.

[illegible]

HADAY J.

The act incorporating the city of Portland [illegible] provides that the common council [illegible] within [illegible]

On [illegible] passed the council [illegible] laundries. This ordinance [illegible] declares every [illegible] building or place which is open to the public as a laundry or wash house [illegible] the proprietor or manager there [illegible] a written register of the receipt and return of [illegible] to keep the premises [illegible] sanitary condition and [illegible] for the purpose of [illegible] quarterly license of $5.

Any person convicted of a violation of the ordinance shall be punished by a fine of from [illegible] or imprisonment from [illegible] days, and the chief of police is required to supervise and control the [illegible] administration and enforcement of the ordinance.

On January [illegible] the petitioner Wan Yin who is the proprietor of a washhouse in Portland refused to pay the quarterly license of $5 when demanded by the police, and on January 20th was on that account convicted of a violation of the ordinance in the police court and sentenced to pay a fine of $[illegible], therefor and in default of payment thereof was committed to the city jail for [illegible] days.

The petitioner sued out a writ of habeas corpus to be delivered from the imprisonment. [illegible] the return of the chief of police, S. B. Parrish [illegible] the facts above stated, to which there was [illegible] by the petitioner.

On the argument counsel for the petitioner contended that the power to regulate laundries did not include the power to license [illegible] that the power to license [illegible] include the power to tax [illegible] but [illegible] right to charge a reasonable fee for issuing the [illegible] and insisted that the fee of $5 a quarter for licensing [illegible] washhouse is [illegible] a pretense for imposing [illegible] business.

On the contrary, counsel for the respondent contends that the power to regulate includes the power to license [illegible] admits that it does not include the power to tax. He insists that the sum required of the petitioner is not a tax but only a license fee, and that the judgment or action of the council in fixing the amount of such fee is not open to inquiry or question in the courts.

Counsel also contends that if the power to regulate a washhouse contained in subdivision aforesaid does not include the power to license the same, then such power is given by subdivision [illegible] of the same section which authorizes the council to license and regulate all such callings, trades and employments not prohibited by law as the public good may require, and that even the power to tax the business of keeping a washhouse is contained in the last clause of subdivision [illegible] of said section which authorizes the council to license, regulate and restrain all offensive trades and occupations.

In support of the proposition that the power to regulate a washhouse does not include the power to license, counsel for the petitioner cites Burlington v. [illegible] 42 Iow [illegible]; Mayor v. Stoddard [illegible] St. Louis v. Treagar [illegible] Minn. 48; Corvallis v. Carlisle, 10 Or. 139; Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. 464; Latham v. West, 20 Wis. 314; Dill. on M. C. § 357; while counsel for the respondent cites to the contrary Burlington v. Lawrence, 42 Iowa 681; Chicago [illegible] (Chicago) 88 Ill. 221; State v. Clarke, [illegible]; Hotchkiss v. [illegible] Conn. 140; Cincinnati v. Buckingham, 10 Ohio 257; Dill. on M. C. § [illegible].

Some of these authorities are flatly contradictory of others on this point, but the difference in the conclusion reached in the most of the cases is largely attributable to a difference in the circumstances.

The words "to control" and "to regulate" evidently imply to restrain, to check, to rule, to direct. And in my judgment the power to do either of these implies the right to license as a convenient and proper means to that end.

A license is merely a permission to do what is unlawful at common law or is made so by some statute or ordinance, including the one [illegible] requiring the license. By this means the [illegible] [illegible] brought within the observation of the municipal authorities, so that whatever regulations are made concerning them may be the more easily and certainly enforced, including the giving of security for their observance before even the license is issued.

The authority of the national government [illegible] that of a municipal corporation is limited to the powers expressly granted in the constitution and such implied powers as may be necessary and convenient to the due execution of the former. And under the power to regulate commerce congress may and does provide for licensing the instruments thereof, as vessels, pilots, engineers and the like. License Tax Cases, 5 Wal. 470.

When an express authority to license is given it may be a question whether it is intended for the purpose of revenue or regulation. But as a municipal corporation has no authority to impose a tax otherwise than in pursuance of an express grant of power to that effect [illegible] from a express grant [illegible] to license is [illegible] to be used only to [illegible] regulation [illegible] [illegible] intended [illegible] used for the purpose of revenue. Cooley on Tax 408.

But where as in this case the power to license is not expressly given but only [illegible] by [illegible] of regulating the subject, it cannot be used for any [illegible] In other words [illegible] the power [illegible] [illegible] cannot be inferred from the power to [illegible] [illegible] admitted by the learned counsel for the respondent. It follows that if the sum required for the petitioner by this ordinance is intended for revenue and not merely regulation the same is so far void.

A fee may be required for a license issued in pursuance of [illegible] but the amount must [illegible] the expense of the [illegible] of issuing the license and the incidental expense of attending the regulation of the business. But the presumption is that the fee prescribed is reasonable unless the contrary plainly appears. Cooley on Tax 408; Dill on M. C. (3rd) § [illegible].

The conclusion already reached that the power to regulate includes the power to license makes it unnecessary to consider whether the fee could be required of the keeper of a washhouse under the general language of said subdivision [illegible]. As a rule a general welfare clause of this kind cannot be construed as applicable to any subject [illegible] [illegible] elsewhere otherwise specially provided for. Dill on M. C. [illegible] 31.

Nor can the trade or occupation of washing [illegible] [illegible] within the meaning of the [illegible] of subdivision [illegible] in the common acceptation [illegible] [illegible] offensive by the fact that the labor is [illegible] principally performed by the Chinese. But while this circumstance [illegible] the business [illegible] offensive to the senses. It may be admitted that [illegible] vicinity of a washhouse is not the most desirable location for a residence or [illegible] [illegible] and therefore those who can afford it will generally seek some more costly or [illegible] location. But if this makes an occupation offensive within the meaning of the statute a majority of the occupations and [illegible] portion of [illegible] the city are so. The laundry, Or. [illegible]

Besides this clause is another general one [illegible] [illegible] all persons, trades or occupations [illegible] [illegible] is not applicable to any subject already [illegible] provided for as this is.

It only remains to consider whether the sum of $5 [illegible] quarterly is a license fee or [illegible] [illegible] incidental expenses of the regulation [illegible] [illegible] for the purpose of revenue.

It is difficult to see how there can be any [illegible] [illegible] extraordinary expense dependent upon this regulation except that for issuing and recording the license [illegible] If the license [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] for such license [illegible] [illegible] period of one year. And [illegible] should certainly [illegible] than that.

In Lockwood v. New Albany, 2 Ind. 263 it was held that the defendant under the power to regulate ferries having a landing within its limits could not charge a fee of $300 for a license therefor. Now $100 per annum for a license to run a ferry on the Ohio river, at New Albany, in 1865, was probably a smaller compensation relatively than $20 a year for keeping a washhouse in Portland.

There are other cases as for instance Boston v. Schaffer, 9 Pick. 415 and Burlington v. [illegible] [illegible] in which the [illegible] relatively high [illegible] sustain [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the license [illegible]

[illegible] the power to regulate [illegible] a purpose.

[illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] of the fourteenth amendment [illegible] without due process of law by [illegible] found upon the district and circuit [illegible] provisions of the fourteenth amendment that was plainly intended as a bulwark against such oppression and tyranny as well up North as down South would be a dead letter. The supreme court is too far away and too [illegible] [illegible] to furnish relief to the [illegible] except either upon a direct application or on an appeal from the state court.

But the supreme court ought to have the power to review the judgments of the district and circuit courts in these cases, and the state the legality of whose acts is involved in the proceeding, ought to have the right to be heard as a party thereto. And it might be well where the petitioner is imprisoned [illegible] process from a state court that the writ might be allowed by either the district or circuit judge, returnable only into the circuit court, which in each case should only be heard until two of the judges of that court were present, and that in the mean time the prisoner might be admitted to bail.

AUCTION SALE TO-DAY

OVERLAND PASSENGERS

Passed Medford last night, to arrive here this afternoon: L. Easterhouse and Charles Klein, Sacramento.

BRIEF MENTION

The lady bicycle rider is at the pavilion.

"Michael Strogoff" at the New Market to-night.

T. Lowe was fined $10 yesterday by Justice White for an assault upon J. L. Daly.

The Columbia from the mouth of the Willamette to Cottonwood point is comparatively clear of ice, but above it is still closed.

The little steamer Bellwood has been fitted with a new propeller shaft and is now in complete order and running upon her usual route.

The C. S. Hulbert started down the river yesterday. The Yarra Yarra goes to-morrow. There are big tides now and both vessels took full cargoes here.

Mrs. Cuneo, who was again arrested for drunkenness the other night, had in some way become the fortunate possessor of $10, and was therefore enabled to pay her fine yesterday.

Winnie Crowley, a woman of the street, was arraigned in the police court yesterday upon a charge of vagrancy, of which after a short trial she was convicted and fined $40 or twenty days in jail. The fine was paid.

William Johnson, who was shot Monday, near Glencoe, Washington county, is resting easy. An effort will be made to-day to cut the bullet out of his leg. If blood poisoning does not set in, Johnson will doubtless recover.

The Rev. G. W. Chandler, pastor of the Taylor street M. E. church, will deliver the third in the members course at the Y. M. C. A. on next Monday evening. Subject "The Elements of Success." Educational classes meet this evening.

The case of H. W. Prettyman against the O. R. & N. Co. came up in the state circuit court yesterday, on motion to strike out parts of amended complaint, which motion was allowed. The suit was brought to recover $1000 for loss of a parcel of pear cions, valued at $500, and damage caused by said loss in the same amount. The cions were shipped up here from San Francisco, and were not delivered, as is claimed, through the negligence of the defendant's servants.

AN EXPLANATION

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 29.

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The report of the trial in Justice Davis' court, published in the issue of last Wednesday, regarding George H. Chick & Co. in connection with J. Grafe, did the firm great injustice. At no time was Mr. Grafe refused either the money or the deed. He expressed himself perfectly satisfied to wait the return of Mr. Richards, when the money was to have been paid or the deed delivered to him. Mr. Grafe, instead of waiting, as he had promised, began suit against the firm before the return of Mr. Richards, who is now here, and the deed which I now show you is signed, sealed, and ready for delivery to Mr. Grafe or his authorized agent.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FIRE ENGINE FOR SOUTH PORTLAND.—There has been a tacit promise on the part of the city council, the board of fire commissioners and the chief engineer of the fire department to the people of South Portland that so soon as the safety of other portions of the city warranted such a step the south end should have a steam fire engine. The south Portlanders do not want an extra engine, but they do want a hose company moved to the top of the grade, somewhere between First, Third, Lincoln and Caruthers streets, and will probably ask the council to make the necessary appropriation. Extension of the Holly [illegible] Company's mains [illegible] Market street gives to the business [illegible] enough protection to justify the removal of a hose company to the head of First street. The property south of the gulch is absolutely without protection, and an engine [illegible] as suggested above could reach this district quick [illegible] while it would command a large area south of Market street, and be ready for the east end down town in case of emergency. The additional cost of this protection to South Portland [illegible] less than $2000 or $2500. A lot [illegible] can be bought for $1000, and the city already has a building—Volunteer Five's house—corner Fourth and Mill. The expense of moving and fitting it up will not be heavy. It has been suggested that the building now occupied by Fours on First near Jefferson, be sold as it will bring a good price. This will not be done, for the reason that the time will be soon at hand when two hose companies will be needed to operate the plugs, and a better location than this would be hard to find.

ARE THEY MOUNTAIN TROUT?—Complaint is made by a sportsman that brook or mountain trout are on sale in the markets here in violation of the law. If this is so, the person caught selling these trout or with them in his possession, should be prosecuted and punished. Brook trout are not in season, having only lately finished spawning, and being poor, they are unfit for food. It is very doubtful whether they can be caught in any number, as they will not take any bait readily at this season. The writer has not seen any brook trout in the market for some time, and is of opinion there are none. The trout seen in the markets are generally believed to be from the ocean. They are nearly all of large size, weighing from a pound to three pounds, and are in fine condition, being plump and the flesh of good color and are good eating, which the brook trout is not at this season. These sea trout are taken in large numbers in the Cowlitz, Sandy, Clackamas and other large streams emptying into the Columbia and Willamette, but never far up these streams. They are also caught along the shores of the Columbia and Willamette during the winter and early spring, but no such trout are taken far up toward the sources of any trout streams.

SEND US THE NAME.—Twenty-three letters in THE OREGONIAN counting room, are awaiting "J. Y. Z.," the middle-aged "girl" who advertised for a husband. If the lady has made a selection from the first two batches of fifty letters handed her through the agency of this journal, she will please make the fact known, so that the bundle now on hand may be sent to the paper mill. They will be kept just one more week, unless called for sooner. Probably this advertiser found a mate in the first venture, in which case she ought to preserve the remainder and send them to the next lady who wants a husband. No doubt forty-nine of the fifty applicants for her hand are at this time waiting to be thrilled with a tender missive of acceptance. She ought not to keep them longer in suspense, and THE OREGONIAN hereby offers to help her out free by publishing the name of the prize winner. This will save $8 cents in stamps, two bits in paper and envelopes, and several dollars in mental and physical labor in writing answers. Now Jyzzie dear, let us have the name of the groom elect, and if you should ever become a widow and want to marry again we'll tender the use of the "New To-day" column at reduced rates.

THE WEATHER AND THE CATTLE.—The moderation in temperature which was experienced here with the gentle rain of Wednesday night did not affect Eastern Oregon and Washington. There was some snow and sleet on and around the Blue mountains and the mercury yesterday morning varied from 28 to 33. This state of affairs makes the outlook for stock more gloomy than ever and a strong chinook within a very few days is their only salvation. A large stockowner living here received a letter yesterday from his ranch near Fossil, Wasco county, about 100 miles south of The Dalles, written by his chief herder under date of the 19th inst. The man wrote most discouragingly, said the snow had crusted, that sheep were dying by hundreds, that the cattle could not survive much longer unless warm weather came soon, and the horses had eaten each others' manes and tails off. Probably the man took a despondent view, but as there has been no moderation in the weather since the 19th, there is good reason to believe that a large share of the stock is already lost. Fossil is on Butte creek and is not considered an exposed range.

NUT-BEARING TREES.—Speaking of the kinds of nut-bearing trees which can be grown with profit, the Farmer and Dairyman says: "The importance of cultivating nut-bearing trees in this part of the northwest will not depend so much on what can be made in growing the nuts for the domestic market as in the future commercial value of the wood furnished by the trees. Especially will this apply to the walnut and hickories enumerated. With some of the seasoned hard woods selling in this market for from $60 to $150 per thousand, it would seem as if there is a chance for those having energy and patience to grow large groves of hard wood trees, such as hickory, walnut, etc., to reap a rich future reward or leave one to their children coming after. The hickory would be large enough after a few years' growth to be used for many purposes, such as making ax helves, pick-handles, wagon spokes, etc."

BOYS IN JAIL.—George Woodward, aged 10, and Ducky Brandsetter, aged 11 years, were sent up to the county jail yesterday from Redmond's court. They are charged with breaking into the dwelling of one Hamlin, a woolsawyer, and stealing $10 in coin. It is said that the same boys were up before Justice Redmond on a similar charge some time since and were dismissed on promising to behave themselves. The youngsters were in separate rooms at the jail and when interviewed each accused the other of having committed the robbery. Just what will be done with them is difficult to imagine, and the question again recurs on the proposition "What shall we do with our bad boys?" The little fellows were both snivelling and wiping their eyes and seemed quite prostrated at the prospect of solitary confinement, and perhaps their unpleasant experience may have the effect of deterring them from such crimes in the future.

LYCEUM SOCIABLE.—The third of a series of sociables given by the Young People's lyceum of Grace M. E. church was held at the residence of Mr. J. K. Gill Wednesday evening, which was largely attended and very enjoyable. During the evening Mr. Gill and his daughter, Miss Jessie Gill, rendered a violin and piano duet, Mr. Sam Gill gave a recitation and Mr. John Gill sang. Miss Mabel Haseltine rendered a recitation in a manner that won many compliments. Mr. Gill's large collection of photographic views of buildings and scenery that specially attracted his attention while abroad were very interesting, recent events in London lending particular interest to the views of the parliament houses and London tower. Refreshments were served. These gatherings at private houses bring members of this young church together in a social way and are productive of a great deal of pleasure.

THE LAW WITHOUT A CASE.—The disposition of some men to go to law, whether they have the least foundation for a case or no, was beautifully illustrated the other day in the justice's court for Fulton precinct by one Sullivan, a plasterer. He did some work for Mrs. J. H. Drummond and took her husband's note in settlement therefor. The note falling due and not being paid, he began suit in Justice White's court against Mrs. Drummond on the original work, and was promptly non suited. Then he dropped the matter for a while and began a similar suit last week before Justice Caldwell with the same result—a non suit for the defendant. Of course Mr. Sullivan is paying for his lawing and can bring the same sort of a suit in any court in the county, but the remarkable thing about it is that a criminal charge [illegible] has not been brought so that the county can foot the bill.

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST THE O. & C.—The Farmers Loan and Trust Co., which commenced a suit in the United States district court a few days since to foreclose the second mortgage bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad Co., yesterday commenced suit No. 2 as trustee for holders of first mortgage bonds of said company, to foreclose them also. If this sort of thing is kept up for a while somebody will be able to foreclose something some of these days.

CANNOT ACCOUNT.—In the case of C. H. Wheeler vs. J. J. McLeod et al., Judge Smith yesterday made a nunc pro tunc order allowing the making of a chattel mortgage. Wheeler was interested with McLeod et al in a fishing wheel and by some concatenation of circumstances he was ousted. He was sued for a dissolution of partnership, appointment of a receiver, and all the other items, all the same as the bondholders sue railroad corporations.

LIBBEY LAUNCH TRIAL TRIP.—Yesterday afternoon the work of putting in the machinery of the new steam launch built by the Stark street ferry company was completed and steam was got up to test its workings. The little vessel behaved beautifully on its short trip down the river, from the [illegible] Stark street to the foot of M street, in East Portland and exhibited a rate of speed that is very gratifying to its owners. She will be ready for service in about a week, during which time the painters and finishers will do their work. She will then be put on for regular night service after [illegible] will [illegible] East Portland [illegible] This will [illegible] who stay [illegible] late [illegible] will [illegible].

MISS SYLVESTER'S BICYCLE RIDING.—About two hundred people [illegible] half of them spectators, were at the pavilion skating rink last night and witnessed the bicycle riding of Miss Annie Sylvester, a young woman from the east who calls herself the champion of the [illegible] She has a pleasing appearance and her riding is [illegible] considering [illegible] her [illegible] She [illegible] most gracefully and does the usual trick riding without fault. Many of the [illegible] performances were trick riding upon the wheel [illegible] but there are [illegible] and although they require great [illegible] of nerve, yet she does them well.

FROZEN FEET.—Mr. Clarke, of [illegible] Marion county, who had both feet amputated, is in a very precarious condition and his recovery is considered extremely doubtful. Silas Jones, who also had both feet amputated at the same time, is getting along as well as could be expected and will no doubt recover. Oscar Smith of Lost Valley, five miles from [illegible] Wasco county, started a few days ago to go to the sheep camp, and becoming tired, went into an old cabin for shelter and rest, when he found his feet were both frozen, also the flesh around his neck and cheek. He remained in the cabin two days before he was found. One leg will have to be taken off at the knee and the toes of the other foot.

DRUGGISTS' ASSOCIATION.—The retail druggists of this city, who temporarily organized a mutual protective association about two months ago, have made it permanent under the name of the "Portland and East Portland Retail Druggists' Association." Temporary officers are John A. Child, president, and J. G. Clarke secretary. As stated at the outset, the object of the association is mutual protection of the retail trade and also to fix uniform prices for all kinds of proprietary or patent medicines. Already the association has established a certain scale of uniform prices for this class of medicines. The prices are fixed at about the rate established in the east.

SMALL FIRE.—An alarm was turned in from box sixteen about 6 o'clock last evening for a fire at the residence of Mrs. Case, 68 North Fourth street, between D and E. The roof of the building was considerably damaged. The fire was put out principally with Babcock extinguishers, and as but little water was used the damage to furniture was not great. Fortunately an alarm was telephoned from the International hotel several minutes before the big bell struck, and the hook and ladder company notified promptly. This saved many dollars damage.

PRISONERS EN ROUTE.—The sheriff of Clatsop county and a constable arrived here yesterday with four prisoners en route for the penitentiary in charge. They are Herbert, the saloon-keeper who shot "Scotty" McDonald, under sentence for life, an Italian named Frank sentenced for five years for assault with a deadly weapon, a Swede named Gus for eighteen months for stabbing, and a Chinaman sent up for one year for larceny. They were lodged in the county jail and will be taken to Salem to-day.

SAVED HIS HOUSE FROM BURNING.—C. Mathena, an OREGONIAN compositor, arrived at his home in East Portland last evening just in time to save it from burning to the ground. His little daughter, aged 2 years, had found some matches and built a very interesting fire on the bed which the mother had not discovered. The fire was well under way and the little one in great glee when her father arrived. Prompt action on his part was successful in putting out the flames.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.—William Hayward, the smart young man who had hid in warehouses and stores until after they were locked up at night, and then let himself out with what portable property he could gather up, was arraigned in the police court yesterday afternoon upon a charge of larceny from a store. He did not think it necessary to have an examination and in default of $300 bonds was committed to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

DAMAGE TO TREES AND FENCES.—The orchards at Hood river were much damaged by the heavy snow. During the thaw the snow settled about one half and stripped the branches off young trees. Mr. Rand had 400 trees set out last fall completely ruined. The damage to fences was great, especially to wire fences, the weight of snow sagging down the wires and either pulling out the staples or breaking the wires.

NO LAW AGAINST BUILDING DAMS.—A subscriber at La Grande asks: "First, Is there a law prohibiting the building of dams across rivers not navigable in Oregon, to the entire exclusion of salmon, trout and other fish ascending its streams? Second, Can parties building such dams be compelled to put in fish ladders, that fish can ascend the streams to deposit their spawn?" There is no law on the subject.

THE NICARAGUAN TREATY

The Board of Trade Ask the United States Congress to Carry the Treaty into Effect

A special meeting of the board of trade was held yesterday, President Macleay in the chair, for the purpose of expressing the views of the merchants of this city relative to the treaty between the United States and the Nicaraguan government and the construction of a canal.

After considerable informal discussion the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously passed:

WHEREAS, The government of the United States has concluded a treaty with the republic of Nicaragua, whereby the right to construct an interoceanic canal, to be used [illegible] by the commerce of all nations, has been secured, and,

WHEREAS, The construction of this canal would greatly stimulate the shipping interests of the United States in general and those of the Pacific coast in particular, now therefore be it

Resolved, That the board of trade of Portland, Oregon, does earnestly appeal to the congress of the United States for the enactment of the legislation necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this treaty.

Resolved, That the construction of the Nicaraguan canal would add greatly to our facilities for delivering the wheat crop of this coast to the markets of Europe, that we appeal to congress for this measure as one sanctioned by the demands of justice and fair treatment to this section of the union.

DONALD MACLEAY, President.
FREDERICK K. ARNOLD, Secretary.

The secretary was instructed to send copies of the preamble and resolutions to the senate and house of representatives, and to ask their early and favorable action. Adjourned.

THE STAGE

THE NEW MARKET.—To-night the great Russian play "Michael Strogoff, or the Courier of the Czar," will be given, at popular prices. Replete with startling effects and incidents, it has always met with great favor. Mr. Graemer, who sustains the title role, Michael Strogoff, was the original in this character in this country, it having first been presented at the Baldwin theater, San Francisco, in 1878, having an uninterrupted run there of six weeks to enormous business. Mr. Graeme's name has been identified ever since with this play, and although some of the strongest companies from the east have presented it on the Pacific coast, its success has never equaled the original production. The play will be given also to-morrow afternoon and evening.

THE CASINO.—It has finally been decided, owing to the great success of "Prince Methusalem" and the many requests from various quarters, to give a matinee on Saturday [illegible] for ladies and children, at which no smoking will be permitted. As many have expressed their [illegible] their children [illegible] the opera [illegible].

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 30, 1885

COMMERCIAL.

W[illegible] [illegible] tardily [illegible] to-day [illegible] weather has [illegible] experienced all week. The eastern section has reported fair to cloudy weather all week. Thus far the winter has been all that could well be desired and the crops are flourishing. The produce [illegible] for the week aggregates well, shown a great increase over a similar time last year. Wheat receipts, while not large, have been [illegible] for shippers' needs and the loading [illegible] cleared. Of the spot fleet [illegible] vessels to be loaded and the most of these are well advanced. Of the fleet [illegible] half is under charter [illegible] this port and will be partly filled with flour. With the [illegible] of the present loading fleet the export business will be a slow one. The course of the grain market abroad in the week had been highly displeasing to both shippers and producers. The wheat advance since the middle of November in Oregon cargoes was 5s. At this time one half to two thirds of this has been lost, so that the market is really in little better condition than during the last fall months. The necessity of loading a large spot fleet has served to sustain local wheat values, but it is now conceded that lower prices must soon rule. Sellers have fought against this, but will doubtless have to submit to the inevitable, for nothing less than foreign advances can sustain the local market. Selling at this time is very free when it is considered that the major portion of the crop is moved and the surplus is in stronger hands.

The Embleton, for Cardiff, has 42,47? ctls wheat, valued at $52,[illegible], shipped by C. Cesar & Co.

Overland receipts include 100 cs corn, 4 cs syrup, 10 sks dried pears, 14 sks seed, 80 tubs butter, 5 bbls currants, 10 cs bacon, 20 tcs hams, [illegible] cs salt meat, 2 cs cigars, 3 cs cigarettes, 140 pkgs tobacco, 900 cs coal oil, 22 bls cotton bags, [illegible] bls flax twine.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 11,388 ctls wheat, 264 bbls flour, 654 ctls oats, 54 ctls barley, [illegible] ctls bran, 700 ctls millstuff, [illegible] sks potatoes, 91 lbs hides, [illegible] cs eggs, [illegible] lbs hops, 28 bxs fruit, 7 pkgs butter. Also [illegible] ctls wheat, [illegible] bbls flour, 360 ctls barley, 160 ctls millstuff, [illegible] sks potatoes, 1872 lbs hides, 21 pkgs butter from the eastern section.

FREIGHTS—In the week the [illegible], Valparaiso, [illegible], Citadel, Western Belle and M[illegible] Near sailed with wheat cargoes. The Embleton finished with wheat and the Chilena, Sarnia and Lucayas with flour. The George S. Homer is at Astoria ready to clear with wheat. Two vessels have been added to the list en route, one withdrawn and two arrived. The arrivals were the Sovereign, under prior charter, and Janet McNeil open. The market has been at a standstill as concerns business, but has weakened under lower grain markets abroad. Iron at hand talks for 52s 6d, but shippers talk something under 50s and are not disposed to make firm offers even at their own views. It would appear that rates must give way if owners desire to do business, and it is highly probable that very little more can be done in wheat freights. Receipts are slow, markets disappointing and sellers indisposed to grant decided concessions. The mills are stepping in and promise to do a steady business in an export way. In futures no new business is reported and there is no request. At San Francisco the market has receded, with almost nothing doing.

WHEAT—Foreign markets mark a substantial decline over last Thursday. American markets are correspondingly affected and the whole trade wears a weaker aspect. The exact causes for this are largely hidden. Our local market has thus far suffered less than have others, local causes serving to sustain it. These are gradually being removed and at the close a general weakness is manifest. Shippers have paid full prices to supply needs, not having the Walla Walla section to draw from. This has aided the valley seller in obtaining very full prices, but only a reaction abroad can prevent a lower range here. Buyers have paid $1 20 for round lots, but are reducing interior limits at the close, having comparatively light needs to supply now. For ordinary sized parcels of valley $1 17½ is about the extreme obtainable. A round lot here at this time would doubtless command $1 20, but in the weak condition of the market this figure is hardly deemed a safe one. Millers are buying some in the interior on the basis of $1 17½, or a fraction better. Walla Walla grades are in light receipt and largely for San Francisco shipment. Nominally $1 12½ is quoted on wharf here.

FLOUR—The Chilena, Sarnia and Lucayas have filled up for Liverpool, the two first taking valley product. Another vessel is now in berth. The decline in wheat abroad may affect flour shipments hence. The local trade is free under a good demand. Standards quoted $4; others $3 50@3 75. As a rule stocks are only fair.

MILLSTUFF—Receipts very free and stocks are piling up, none being shipped. Bran shows more weakness. Other kinds fairly steady. First hands have sold less of late. We quote local jobbing values: Bran $12@15, shorts $14@17, chop $16@20, middlings $20@2?. It will be seen that the inside figures are reduced from last week.

OATS—Market freely supplied, offerings being in excess of all demands. As a rule holders are firm for 33@35c for best feed grades, but buyers bid 30@32c. A lot of stained sold at 25c to go into the eastern section. The poorer grades meet with little encouragement, yet a large quantity has been sold. Shipments outward are again small, the San Francisco market offering no inducement.

POTATOES—The export movement continues a very liberal one, and purchases have been free at 25c for Garnet Chili and 30c for Peerless or Burbank. The market has ruled at these figures all week, and there is nothing now to indicate an early change. Offerings are not restricted in any way.

ONIONS—Some going to San Francisco, but that market has not improved. The local jobbing price is 1½c.

APPLES—Small trade doing, choice only meeting with small demand and quotable 50@75c. For export [illegible]@60c is permitted.

DRIED FRUIT—The market remains in much the same condition as all along reported, and promises no improvement. Common sorts are very slow sale, being plentiful, while imported sorts are firm. We quote local jobbing prices: Sun-dried apples 5c, factory do 6@8c, prunes 8c, plums 8@10c, peaches 12½@13c, new raisins $2 25 per full box. Some dealers shade these prices on apples and plums.

PROVISIONS—Offerings continue quite liberal and values are hardly steady. Eastern meats are in fair supply only, but can be shaded. Country cured is in full stock, while city packers offer their product slowly, resisting any drop where possible. We quote: Best city cured hams 13@14c, do bacon 1?@13c, shoulders 7@8c; eastern bacon 11c and hams range from 14 to 16c. Country cured meats 2@2½c below city pack. Lard quoted 11¾@12c for eastern small tins, 11½@12c for local pails, and 10@11c for local kegs and 40-lb tins.

TROPICAL FRUITS—Oranges in larger receipt and selling at $2@4 as to quality; lemons slow at $6@7; limes $1 [illegible]; bananas $1 75; sugar cane $2 [illegible].

VEGETABLES—Cabbage slow at 1½c. Carrots in small request at 40@50c per sack. Celery 75c; cauliflower $1 10.

BUTTER—[illegible] to 60c and [illegible] East. Eastern [illegible]. Local choice selling at 25@30c, but consignments of common [illegible] must be shaded to effect sales, [illegible] being obtained. For the poorer grades there is no market.

POULTRY—Chickens have improved slightly from last week, [illegible] being the outside figure for choice. Turkeys are not wanted and [illegible] is the [illegible] quotation. Ducks quiet [illegible] steady at $[illegible]. Geese in [illegible] request at $8@10. The whole market is quiet, with no early improvement expected.

EGGS—Irregular [illegible]. Stocks are reduced, but arrivals are again increasing and lower prices are looked for.

HAY—Choice baled timothy $1? [illegible] commanding $[illegible]. Loose [illegible].

HIDES, ETC—The movement [illegible] quoted: [illegible] green [illegible]. The [illegible] sides are [illegible] local dealers have reduced offers for [illegible] anticipation of lower prices. Deerskins [illegible] extremes hard to realize. Elkskins not wanted, 40@50c [illegible] quoted [illegible] furs and skins. Dark beaver $[illegible]; [illegible] summer deerskins 20@2?c, do winter 1?@20c; eastern Oregon summer deerskins 1?@20c, do winter 12½@15c, elkskin — per lb. The following sell by the skin: Black bear $1@5, brown do 50c@$5, dark fisher $2 50@5, pale do 50c@$1, silver fox $5@25, cross do $2@5, red do 75c@$1 50, lynx 37½@60c, prime dark marten 50@75c, dark mink 10@40c, land otter $1 50@5 50, wolf 37½@50c, wolverine 50c@$1 50.

WOOL—Nothing of interest in this market, no business passing. San Francisco has enjoyed a good business of late, old stocks being well cleaned up.

HOPS—Several buyers have deserted the market and gone home, leaving it in the hands of a few who talk lower prices, naming 11c as an extreme. Receipts of late have been very light. San Francisco advices say that in response to a better in[illegible]

The Commercial News summary of last week's San Francisco market is as follows:

The week has been one of fair business activity, orders from the country having come in more liberally, and the better feeling before noted is well maintained. Changes in values so far as noted are slight but denote improvement. In Japan some three weeks since a decline of $2 per picul occurred in teas; subsequently a reaction took place and prices advanced. The latest dispatches quote common to good grades of teas at $1 per picul higher than before the decline, with the market firm. The local market is as yet but little affected, owing to large stocks in the hands of importers, a light home demand and strong competition. Still prices are firm. Refined sugars are without change in values, with a fair business reported. The steamer Colima is just at hand with 2008 bags of Central American, a part of which goes to the refinery, but the major portion is fair to good grocery grades and is on the market. Rice, both new mixed and Hawaiian, has advanced in price within the week, under active demand, and free sales are reported. New mixed is now quoted at $4 05@4 10 and Hawaiian is firm at $5 per bag. The stock of the latter is in the hands of a single operator. The latest arrivals were small in volume and well distributed, so as not likely to affect the market. Choice pepper declined [illegible]. All other spices in full supply and steady. Stocks of canned fruits are steadily decreasing under regular orders, which are light. The market is quite sensitive and an increased demand would tend to cause an advance in some lines which are now running low in stock. The only changes noted are in the price of apricots, blackberries and peaches. The supply of canned salmon is running low. An authority places the available stock on the Columbia river at about 15,000 cases. The usual eastern demand for the Lenten season has been disappointing. China nut oil is lower; now quoted at [illegible]. The San Francisco Cordage Co. has issued a revised list of prices, showing a reduction of ½c per pound all round on both Sisal and Manilla cordage. Arrivals of new crop Central American coffees are larger. The market is firm.

This is to certify that I am well acquainted with a man fifty years of age, for many years a resident of this city, who has been at times extremely ill, but could not tell from what cause, unless it was worms. He told his attending physician his suspicions, but the physician at once ridiculed the idea and refused to attend him any longer. His son then mentioned Dr C McLane's Vermifuge, and asked him if he would take it; his reply was he must take something to get relief or die.

They at once procured a bottle of Dr. McLane's Vermifuge, and he took one dose. The result was he passed upwards of three quarts of worms cut up in every form. He got well immediately, and is now enjoying excellent health, and, like the good Samaritan of old, is endeavoring to relieve his unfortunate neighbors. He makes it his business to hunt up and select all cases similar to his own, that may be given over by regular physicians, and induces them to try Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge. So far he has induced more than twenty persons to take the Vermifuge, and in every case with the most happy results. He is well satisfied that Dr C McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, is far superior to any other known remedy, and that if more generally known would not fail to save many valuable lives. For further particulars inquire of Mrs Hardie, 14½ Cannon street, New York City.
